

CREATING A BETTER SOCIETY

SCIENTOLOGY TODAY™

PUBLISHED BY THE OFFICE OF SPECIAL AFFAIRS

VOL. II, ISSUE 3

Major Legal Victory Won In Italian Court Case

On December 21, 1989, in a landmark victory, the Supreme Court for the Republic of Italy ruled that the judicial official (called a "judge of instruction") responsible for the 1986 raids on Italian churches and Narconons, Guicla Mulliri, had clearly demonstrated prejudice in how she handled the Scientology case.

Heber Jentzsch, president of the Church of Scientology International, told Scientology Today, "This is a momentous victory for freedom! The psychiatric-backed conspiracy has been

continued on page 3

A Decade of Community Service and Recognitions

All around the world, Scientologists working with members of the Office of Special Affairs have been actively serving their communities through a variety of programs which are creating an unprecedented volume of recognitions for the Church

continued on page 6

Ten Years of Legal Wins

February 1980:

The chief counsel for the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stipulated that "Scientology is and at all relevant times was a religion within the purview of the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States."

February 1980:

The City Court of St. Louis, Missouri, stated that the Church is tax-exempt because it is a bona fide religion and uses its property "exclusively for religious purposes."

August 1980:

The Church of Scientology of San Diego, California, was granted tax-exempt status by the IRS.

February 1981:

The Church of Scientology Mission of Salt Lake City was acknowledged as tax-exempt by the IRS.

May 1982:

The Church of Scientology of Vienna, Austria, won a tax case based on the fact that the Church is a religious association.

continued on page 2

The 1980s—A Decade of Incredible Wins

► Exposing Psychiatric Crimes Internationally
See page 5

► Sweeping Scientology Victories in the Legal Arena
See pages 8, 9

Church of Scientology International Office of Special Affairs International
6331 Hollywood Boulevard, Suite 1200
Los Angeles, California 90028-6329

Non-Profit Org.
U.S. Postage PAID
Los Angeles
Permit No. 3508

A Letter From the President

A Decade of Incredible Wins With Many More to Come

Dear Scientologist,
The past ten years of outstanding wins have thrust the Church of Scientology into the vanguard of our civilization, demonstrating the power of Scientology to turn this civilization into the one that Ron envisioned for us all.

This issue of Scientology Today is dedicated to briefing you on the magnitude of what has been accomplished during the 1980s by Scientologists working hand in hand, creating victory after victory.

We have received landmark recognitions by governments around the globe, undoing years of suppression. We have won scores of courtroom battles, setting precedents that will protect our religion for eons to come. We have established ourselves as the leaders in social reform and community service, making the Church the group others turn to for guidance and help.

The volume of positive media on LRH, Scientology and Dianetics has skyrocketed. The Church's outreach into the communities of the world has been validated by official proclamations from city councils, county and state officials, governors and senators, recognizing LRH technology and the Church's work as vital forces that are improving life in this troubled world.

These wins were accomplished through the exact application of Scientology technology to eradicate the feeble attempts of psychiatrists and their government cohorts to undermine the only movement on Earth that can set man free.

As we emerge triumphant from each battle in which we engage, our numbers and our strength continue to multiply.

We are now on the brink of a new decade, looking back on ten years of tremendous expansion for Scientology, as well as major blows delivered to psychiatrists and their accomplices. As we move through the 1990s, we will further depower the enemies of freedom and create even greater expansion, bringing Scientology to every corner of planet Earth by the year 2000.

"We are the future — we are making a major leap forward into the '90s. You are an important part of this new push forward."

For example, early in the new year, we will be launching a series of radio shows called "The Navigator," which will be played on radio stations around America. Styled after shows done during the Golden Age of Radio, "The Navigator" is a unique blend of entertainment, space age technology, and broad-scale Scientology dissemination.

Each episode in the series will dramatize a specific problem in society, such as drug abuse, rising crime rates, psych abuses, economic decay, and marital problems, with the actors presenting real life stories. Listeners will also be given basic LRH principles that provide a better understanding of the problem being presented, as well as workable solutions to it.

At the end of each show, the listener is told how to contact his nearest Church of Scientology.

We will also be launching a major "Lead the Way to a Drug-Free USA" campaign that will include a tour by Scientology celebrities around the country, a continuous exposure of corrupt government officials who are contributing to the drug problem, drug education lectures, and the presentation of the only solution to drugs: the Purification Rundown.

In this way, we will greatly raise public awareness of the drug problem, the individuals responsible for it and the solutions Scientology and Narconon offer.

Our investigation of Interpol is being intensified internationally, aimed at creating an overwhelming demand by governments that Interpol's charter be revoked and that this Nazi, drug-running machine of corruption be dismantled.

Heber Jentzsch

The IRS will also feel our presence more than ever, resulting in a public outcry and further congressional hearings, leading to real reform.

Investigations of psychiatry's criminal practices and criminal prosecutions of its practitioners are being multiplied ten-fold. Destructive psychiatric techniques will be outlawed, so that governments can no longer consider funding psychiatry's barbarities.

Many of these goals will be accomplished through the production and distribution of FREEDOM Magazine in many countries around the world where there are Churches of Scientology.

Accomplishing these goals will require a lot of hard work and dedication — and most of all, the teamwork of all Scientologists. I urge you to become more active, either by joining the OSA team, or contributing as a volunteer to OSA projects and making Scientology and its results more real to those you contact on a day-to-day basis.

As you read through the stories in this issue covering our major accomplishments during the 1980s, you will see how far we have come in such a short span of time.

We are the future — we are making a major leap forward into the '90s. You are an important part of this new push forward.

So now is the time to launch the new decade with a renewed dedication to creating a civilization of which we can all be proud — one from which the enemies of mankind are vanquished forever and one in which Scientology is universally recognized as the road to total freedom.

As LRH said in Ron's Journal 34, March 13, 1982:

"We are saving beings, not men."

"And the evil die within their own generation."

"We don't."

"So the next time you feel blue, read this."

"The enemy can't even plan for tomorrow."

"We work in eternity."

— Heber Jentzsch

President of the Church of Scientology International

CREATING A BETTER SOCIETY
SCIENTOLOGY TODAY

INTERNATIONAL EDITOR:
Debbie Rossouw
ART DIRECTOR:
Geoff Brown
PUBLISHED BY:
Office of Special Affairs
International
6331 Hollywood Blvd., Suite 1200
Los Angeles, California 90028-6329

CORRESPONDENTS:
• Washington, D.C.: Brian Anderson • Clearwater, Florida: Humberto Fontana • Australia/New Zealand: Mark Hanna • Canada: Gaetane Asselin • Europe: Tarja Vulto • Denmark: Birthe Heldt • France: Danielle Gounord • Germany: Georg Stoffel • Holland: Patrick Peperstraete • Spain: Enrique Ayuso • Italy: Luciano De Marchi • Switzerland: Jurg Stettler • South Africa: Anne Hogarth • Mexico: Ricardo Colin • United Kingdom: Andrew Milne • United States: Tom Whittle

Copyright © 1990 by the Church of Scientology International. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED. Reproduction in whole or in part is strictly forbidden without written permission from the Editor. This is Volume II, Issue 3, January 20, 1990. DIANETICS, LRH, SCIENTOLOGIST, E-METER, HUBBARD, L. RON HUBBARD, OT, HCO, CELEBRITY CENTRE, FLAG, the SCIENTOLOGY CROSS, PURIFICATION RUNDOWN, and SCIENTOLOGY are trademarks and service marks owned by Religious Technology Center and are used with its permission. NARCONON is a trademark owned by A.B.L.E. International. PRINTED IN USA.

INDEX: Page 2, quote © 1982 LRH; Page 8, quote © 1985 LRH; Page 9, 1st quote © 1982 LRH, 2nd quote © 1968 LRH, 3rd quote © 1985 LRH, 4th quote © 1985 LRH, 5th quote © 1970 LRH, 6th quote © 1950 LRH, 7th quote © 1985 LRH, 8th quote © 1985 LRH, 9th quote © 1976 LRH, 10th quote © 1972 LRH, 11th quote © 1959 LRH, 12th quote © 1972 LRH, 13th quote © 1963 LRH, 14th quote © 1973 LRH, 15th quote © 1983 LRH; 16th quote © 1969 LRH, 17th quote © 1968, 1982, 1985 LRH; Page 10, quote © 1982 LRH; Page 11, quote © 1957 LRH; Page 12, quote © 1961 LRH. Grateful acknowledgement is made to L. Ron Hubbard Library for permission to reprint selections from Mr. Hubbard's copyrighted works.

Ten Years of Legal Wins

continued from page 1

May 1982:

The Office of the Attorney General, Seattle, Washington, wrote to the Church: "This office has always recognized the Church of Scientology as a valid religious organization."

August 1982:

The City Court of Vancouver, British Columbia, granted tax exemption to the Church, stating, "... the Board has no hesitation in finding the premises owned by a religious organization."

August 1982:

The Church of Scientology of Toronto was granted unconditional exemption by the Customs and Excise Department from payment of federal sales tax on the sale of books written by L. Ron Hubbard.

January 1983:

The Regional Court in Munich, Germany, validated the Church's policy on refunds. The judge made his decision based on the fact that the effectiveness of religious services cannot be measured by law.

January 1983:

In a court case, a Washington, D.C., magistrate stated, "The Church of Scientology must be treated the same as any established religion or denom-

Major Legal Victory Won in Italian Court Case

continued from page 1

exposed, and the Supreme Court has invalidated the basis upon which all of the actions were taken by that cabal against Scientology in Italy."

The Supreme Court's ruling focused on statements made by Mulliri in 1988, when she told the Scientologists' attorneys that she was "tired of the case" and was already "writing the indictments," without allowing their attorneys sufficient time, as provided in Italian law, to review or correct the information on which she was basing her charges.

Mulliri so tightly limited the defendants' access to the results of her investigation that there was not even time for the defense to copy the documents, much less review them or correct false reports. Attorneys for the defense asked her for additional time but were refused.

"This resounding defeat of a major source of suppression came about after a meticulous investigation by the Church. Looking into those behind the raids, we uncovered the truth about what really occurred," Heber announced.

Conspiracy Exposed

In the weeks immediately preceding the Supreme Court's decision, FREEDOM and the Italian news media widely publicized the fruits of the Church's investigation. Once exposed, Mulliri's prejudicial activities resulted in her removal as the judge of instruction in Milan and she was transferred to a position in Rome.

What had been exposed for the first time were the ties between Mulliri and the other key players involved in the conspiracy against the Church. These are the facts:

Ennio Malatesta: Malatesta is the president and founder of ARIS, an anti-religious group in Italy. He and his group engage in kidnapping for the purpose of forcing individuals to denounce their religious beliefs — a practice known as psychiatric depersonalization (or "deprogramming").

According to a complaint filed against him by his former wife, Malatesta violently beat her on numerous occasions.

According to another complaint, this one filed by a young woman who fell victim to a depersonalizing attempt by members of ARIS, she was drugged and her foot was broken during an outburst of violence as she tried to escape from her kidnappers.

Malatesta and his group work with convicted felon, Ted Patrick, the infamous "father of deprogramming" from the United States.

Luciano Violante: Violante is a member of the Italian Communist Party and a current member of the Italian Parliament; he is a supporter of psychiatry and supporter of anti-religious activities.

According to information published in Speaking Out, a bulletin published by an American anti-religious group, Mulliri introduced Malatesta to Violante. Malatesta was quoted as saying that it was Violante who "gave the political and economic support that permitted ARIS to become a very strong association."

The Church's investigation obtained documentation in the form of a letter from Malatesta to Violante in which he confirms an earlier agreement between them. In this letter, Malatesta lays out the finances he expects to receive in order to pay for attorneys and witnesses to testify against the Church.

Mulliri's contributions to Malatesta were not limited, however, to merely introducing him to Violante. Speaking Out also informed its readers that Mulliri was keeping Malatesta informed of the progress of her investigation and international sect within the United States — Catholic, Protestant or other."

June 1983:

A Massachusetts Superior Court judge ruled that the Church of Scientology "satisfies the criteria of a religion" in that "the teachings involve a theory of the spiritual nature of man."

October 1983:

A case involving the Church of Scientology in Pordenone, Italy, was dismissed and the Purification Rundown was recognized as a religious rite.

October 1983:

The Church of Scientology in Victoria, Australia, won a case against the High Commissioner for Payroll Tax. In a unanimous decision issued by the High Court of Australia, the judges stated, "The conclusion that it is a religious institution entitled to tax exemption is irresistible." During this case, the Church established the legal definition of religion for the Australian Constitution — something which had never been done before.

February 1984:

The U.S. District Court for the Central District of California ruled, "This court finds that the Church of Scientology is a religion within the meaning of the First Amendment. The beliefs and ideas of Scientology address ultimate concerns — the nature of the person and the individual's relationship to the universe."

March 1984:

The High Court in London ordered that three former Scientologists who Scientologists demonstrate outside the courthouse in Bolzano, Italy, prior to the major legal victory there. (See "Victories in Italy," page 8.)

assuring him that she would do her best to get the Scientologists convicted.

After the conspiracy was exposed, Malatesta went on television and expressed his disappointment over Mulliri's transfer off the Scientology case, "because our contacts [with her] will not be possible in the future as they have been in the past."

A "Milestone Victory"

The facts are now out in the open and the highest court in the country has recognized the true nature of Mulliri's motivation.

"This milestone victory signals a new era in Italy," predicted Heber, "during which Scientology will expand like never before."

had been illegally using materials stolen from the Church were to turn the documents in to the Church's solicitors without copying, publishing or divulging the contents of those documents in any way. This put an end to the unauthorized use of copyrighted materials which these individuals had stolen from the Church.

April 1984:

A Canadian appeals court upheld a November 1982 decision that found the Vancouver Church of Scientology to be exempt from property tax as a religious organization.

April 1984:

Exemption from sales tax was obtained on E-Meters imported into Australia. This exemption recognized the E-Meter as a religious artifact.

May 1984:

In a hearing involving the Church of Scientology of Boston, the judge stated, "As far as I am concerned, Scientology is a religion. . . . I will take judicial notice that it is a religion, period."

June 1984:

A U.S. District Court jury found depersonalizer Ted Patrick guilty of "conspiring with hostile intent" against the Church of Scientology and that the purpose of his conspiracy was to force a Scientologist, whom he had kidnapped and held against her will for 30 days, to denounce her religious beliefs.

continued on page 4

Psychiatry Is On Its Way Out In Australia

After 220 days of official hearings into the most widely publicized psychiatric scandal of all time, news has been released that criminal prosecution of the involved psychiatrists has been recommended by the chief counsel to the Royal Commission of Inquiry — the highest form of government investigation in Australia.

The overwhelming evidence of abuse of patients and the documentation of 41 deaths at the now-defunct Chelmsford private psychiatric institution proved what the Citizens Commission on Human Rights (CCHR) said more than a decade ago when it launched its own investigation into Chelmsford: psychiatrists are engaged in criminal activities.

Senior counsel assisting the New South Wales commission, Mr. Brian Donovan, has submitted that the possible charges against the Chelmsford psychiatrists could include manslaughter, perjury, negligence causing grievous bodily harm, and conspiracy to pervert the course of justice.

Members of the Sydney chapter of the Citizens Commission on Human Rights, who spearheaded the 10-year-long campaign to expose the Chelmsford atrocities, hailed the announcement as a long-sought victory. For the victims and their families whose attempts to expose the truth had been repeatedly thwarted by a whitewashing of psychiatric crimes, justice is now in sight.

"Ten years ago, CCHR handed over documentation of 10 Chelmsford deaths to the health authorities," Jan Eastgate, president of CCHR Australia, told Scientology Today. "Many people in the psychiatric and 'mental health' community responded to the news by attempting to cover up the evidence. But CCHR and those working with us persisted, insisting that these deaths could not be swept under the psychiatric carpet."

The individual psychiatrists being investigated in connection with the Chelmsford deaths include the now infamous Dr. Harry Bailey. Bailey was once Australia's chief practitioner of "deep sleep therapy" — a procedure that puts an individual in a coma by means of a barbiturate cocktail, accompanied by brain-searing electric shocks. Once considered the "White Knight" of Australian psychiatry, he became known as "the Deep Sleep Doctor" in an escalating storm of controversy.

In September 1985, one day before he was due to appear in court to answer questions about the atrocities at Chelmsford, Harry Bailey committed suicide, leaving behind a note about his long fight with Scientologists over his psychiatric crimes. Bailey wrote, "They have finally won."

But for CCHR, the victory would not be complete until all the evidence had been publicly exposed and safeguards created to protect people from further psychiatric crimes.

Three years later, on August 16, 1988, New South Wales Health Minister Peter Collins announced that there would be a Royal Commission. "Let me tell you, this Royal Commission will get to the bottom of all the abuses that have gone on in the system," said Collins, "and if that means lifting the lid on any cover-ups that have occurred in the Health Department, the Attorney General's Department, or the police force, then

Ten Years of Legal Wins

continued from page 3

March 1985:

A penal proceeding in a Novara, Italy, court, for alleged labor law violations, was dismissed. The court found that Church staff work for religious purposes, and therefore the relationship between the staff and the Church does not fall within the purview of the labor law.

April 1985:

The FBI was ordered to pay $17,097.72 to the Church of Scientology for withholding documents which the Church had a right to receive copies of under the Freedom of Information Act.

May 1985:

The Social Security Agency of Angers, France, ruled that a staff member of the Church of Scientology of Angers did not have to make Social Security payments as his commitment to the Church was of a purely spiritual nature and his work could not be compared to that of a normal wage earner.

May 1985:

A suit was won in the District Court of Stuttgart, Germany, validating the Church's dissemination activities as part of the pursuit of its religion.

June 1985:

The Social Security Agency in Pau, France, issued a decision granting

THE AUSTRALIAN

NUMBER 7055

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 22 1989

50 CENTS

West Australian

PERTH TUESDAY NOVEMBER 21 1989

11

144 PAGES SOFT

TELEPHONE 482 2111 (Classified 482 1111)

Chelmsford boss 'made gross error'

By MARK WHITTAKER and AAP

THE licensee of Dr Gill and Dr Ian Gardiner had consistently played "word games" in response to legal shortcomings that could have contributed to patient deaths.

Counsel assisting Justice Slattery in the royal commission said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

patients.

He said Dr Gardiner had been a party to a

conspiracy to defraud

Exposing Psychiatric Crimes Internationally

Throughout the 1980s, the Citizens Commission on Human Rights (CCHR) has been doing what it does better than any other group on the planet — exposing psychiatric crimes against mankind and bringing to justice the criminal psychiatrists who are attempting to destroy society.

In late 1989, after years of having to confront their savage acts being publicized in media around the world, psychiatrists admitted the impact Scientologists are having on them, when they wrote in their own publication, The Psychiatric Times, "The Church of Scientology makes no secret about its desire to derail psychiatry."

They have reason for their fears.

The Truth About Ritalin Revealed

The exposure of the psychiatric attack on children through the administration of Ritalin, an extremely addictive drug in the same class as cocaine and morphine, was one of CCHR's major campaigns in the 1980s.

Hundreds of newspaper articles and countless hours of radio and television shows on this issue resulted in thousands of parents around the world contacting CCHR to learn more about the damage psychiatrists are creating on today's children.

This increased public awareness has resulted in legislation being proposed in California which will require that psychiatrists fully inform parents that drugs such as Ritalin can permanently injure and even kill their children. Similar legislation is being pushed in other states by the many professionals who are now supporting CCHR's campaign.

Psychiatric Rape Outlawed

Over the past ten years, CCHR has also been exposing the widespread psychiatric practice of sexually molesting and raping their female patients.

Because of this campaign, psychiatric rape has been outlawed in six states in America, with many other states moving to pass similar laws. These new laws have so far resulted in the conviction of six psychiatrists and psychologists.

The campaign against Ritalin brought wide acceptance of the fact that CCHR and the Scientologists are the ones effectively doing something about the problems of psychiatric drugging.

Psychiatric Hellholes Exposed

In the late 1980s, CCHR opened an investigation into Anclote Manor, a psychiatric institution in Florida. This led to the creation of a task force by the Florida State Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services to investigate charges of patient abuses, and several lawsuits were filed against Anclote psychiatrists.

In 1988, after receiving reports of deaths, tortures and an unusually large number of suicides at Patton State institution in San Bernardino, California, CCHR initiated an investigation into the institution. As a result, Patton is now in jeopardy of losing its license to operate as a psychiatric "hospital."

Investigation Into Mental Health Department

In 1989, CCHR launched an investi-

Is the Excessive Prescribing of Ritalin Leading to "Drugging of a Generation?"

RITALIN
Helping Kids Learn
Part 2

There are many well-known, probably well-publicized, side effects of Ritalin.

"We have good evidence," says Dr. Linda A. Coffey, a psychiatrist at the University of Michigan's College of Medicine, "that Ritalin is effective in the treatment of hyperactivity and attention deficit disorder."

But, she adds, "there are also side effects."

She notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

"It can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension," she says.

She also notes that Ritalin can cause hypertension, tachycardia, and hypertension.

A Decade of Community Service and Recognitions

continued from page 1
of Scientology.

In Los Angeles, California, for example, community service programs have earned the Church a long string of official awards and proclamations from city, local and state government bodies.

Volunteers working for the Los Angeles Community Outreach Program, in close cooperation with the County of Los Angeles, have donated thousands of hours of time and effort, resulting in many excellent products during recent years.

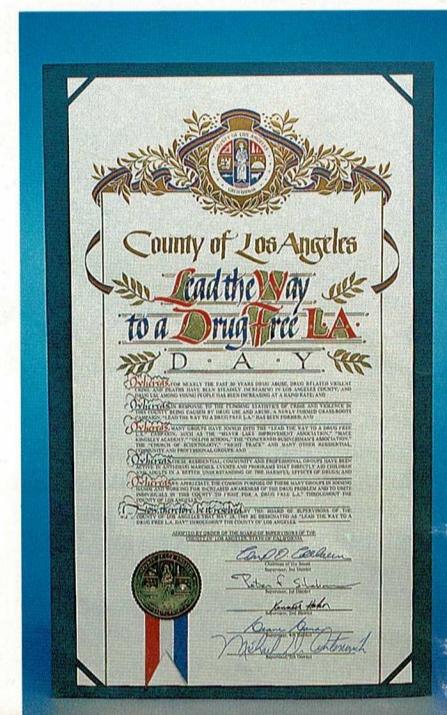

Scientologists have conducted food and clothing drives for the homeless, toy drives for disadvantaged children, and have provided live entertainment to the children and elderly who are cared for in numerous Los Angeles County facilities.

Professional artists from the Visual Arts Association of the Church of Scientology's Celebrity Centre International contributed to the Community Outreach Program by painting murals on the walls of several California Department of Children's Services Day Care Centers around the city. These murals were designed to provide a peaceful and stress-free environment for the abused children and their parents who come to the centers for help.

As a result of these activities, the Church has received numerous awards and recognitions, including a special "Volunteer Group of the Year" award for "consistent and outstanding contribution to the Department of Children's Services programs."

The Church's program has also received special commendations from the City Council of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors.

To top it off, the Church was given a special award from the Senate of the State of California for its work within Los Angeles County. The beautiful, full-color proclamation stated: "In recogni-

In support of the Church's ongoing campaign to bring an end to drug abuse, the County Board of Supervisors proclaimed May 28, 1989, "Lead the Way to a Drug-Free LA Day."

tion of the many hours devoted to assist the Department of Children's Services to provide better care for and respond to the needs of the children and their families in the community. Congratulations and best wishes."

The director of California's Department of Services with the president of the Church of Los Angeles after she accepted an award the Church's Community Outreach Group for a Los Angeles County supervisor. S artists were awarded individual plaques for contributions.

Leading the Way To a Drug-Free LA

The Los Angeles Department of Special Affairs has also been instrumental in launching a major anti-drug campaign in Los Angeles — "Lead the Way to a Drug-Free LA."

The campaign was kicked off with a special concert that featured many Scientology celebrities. A number of anti-drug groups throughout the county have since given their wholehearted support and the County of Los Angeles proclaimed a "Lead the Way to a Drug-Free LA Day" throughout the city.

Seattle's Community Service Programs

Years of successful community service programs carried out in Seattle, Washington, have brought about widespread recognition for the Church.

Scientologists have demonstrated the effectiveness of their actions in upgrading the community, resulting in the Church being looked to as the group that gets things done.

In order to expand these activities, the Church's Public Relations Officer established a Scientology Environmental Task Force, which has conducted a popular environmental campaign, called "Plant Seattle Green." This campaign has raised funds for the city to plant new trees and keep the environment beautiful.

"Plant Seattle Green" received tremendous support from banks, radio stations and other large businesses in town, who helped promote and fund the Church's campaign to make it a success.

The PR Officer has also been elected to the local Chamber of Commerce's Promotions Committee and is carrying out the Committee's projects to upgrade the community and attract more business to the city.

Clearwater Listens to "Scientology Overnight"

Radio listeners in the Clearwater and Tampa Bay areas have been treated to nightly radio programs called "Scientology Overnight," thanks to the efforts of members of the Department of Special Affairs at Flag.

These one-hour-long radio broadcasts have featured information about Scien-

Some of the many proclamations in support of the Church's Community Outreach Group.

California State Senator David Roberti issued this special proclamation commending the hard work done by the Community Outreach Group of the Church of Scientology.

Ten Years of Legal Wins

continued from page 5

June 1988:

The Utah State Tax Commission found the Church of Scientology Mission of Salt Lake to be a religious institution and therefore exempt from sales and use tax.

November 1988:

A court upheld the Church of Scientology of Dusseldorf's religious, non-profit status.

December 1988:

A labor complaint against the Dianetics Association and Narconon group in Madrid was dismissed as having no validity. In the decision, issued by the Central Labor Court in Madrid, the judge recognized the Dianetics Association as a humanitarian and educational association, and Narconon as a nonprofit association with the goal of assisting drug addicts.

December 1988:

The Tax Commission of the City of New York granted full property tax exemption to the Church as a religious organization.

July 1989:

A legal victory was scored by the Church of Scientology in the Wollersheim case when the California Court of Appeal slashed the judgment issued against the Church in 1986, reducing it by $27.5 million.

The editors of Scientology Today would like to hear from you.

Write to:

Scientology Today
6331 Hollywood Boulevard, Suite 1200
Los Angeles, California 90028-6329

tology and Dianetics, the sound track from a video interview with LRH, Ron's "My Philosophy" tape and music performed by Scientology celebrities. Between programming segments, the station runs ads for Dianetics and promotes the Dianetics lectures which are given nightly at the Clearwater mission.

Orlando Clean-up Campaign

The Public Relations Officer in Orlando, Florida, has been participating in the "Clean-up Orlando" campaign which is run out of the mayor's office. Due to the Church's good works in the community, the Director of Special Affairs was voted as co-chairman of one of the committees that takes responsibility for a large area in the city.

As part of the campaign, these staff have been successfully rallying individuals in the community to work together to keep the streets clean and make the store fronts more presentable.

Milan Scientologists preparing for a clean-up of a local park which removed and disposed of hundreds of hypodermic syringes left behind by drug addicts.

Toronto Says "No" to Drugs

In Toronto, Canada, the Church launched a "Say No To Drugs, Say Yes To Life" campaign that has generated broad acceptance throughout the city from dozens of government officials, community leaders and groups.

As part of the campaign, a "Say No To Drugs" Honor Roll was created, which has been signed by thousands of people, including the entire cast of the stage play "Cats," and two professional sports teams, the Toronto Argos and the Toronto Blue Jays.

Support for the campaign skyrocketed when Scientologists entered a "Say No to Drugs" float in "Caribana," the largest parade in North America. The more than 750,000 onlookers enthusiastically supported the parade and saw the Church's "Say No To Drugs" float.

Milan Says "No" To Drug Dealers

In Italy, Scientologists worked with the Department of Special Affairs in Milan and conducted a Church clean-up campaign in one of the city's largest parks which is a center for drug dealing.

Hundreds of drug syringes had been left lying around by drug addicts, and the park consequently posed a major health risk to people who visited, especially children who came to play.

Seeing that something effective needed to be done, Church volunteers scoured the park, picked up trash and removed hundreds of syringes. During the clean-up, they also passed out copies of "The Way To Happiness."

South Africa's Volunteer Ministers Program

In Johannesburg, South Africa, a Volunteer Ministers Program has been launched. Mayors of the black townships in the area have been visited by Scientology ministers to find out what they need and want from the Volunteer Ministers Association. Based on the data gathered, study and integrity workshops have been delivered with rave results.

One community leader who attended a workshop was particularly enthused about LRH study technology and when she later attended a conference of more than 300 librarians from around the country, she briefed them on the workability and effectiveness of the LRH study methods she had learned.

In Canada, the Saskatchewan Roughriders professional football team are among the many athletes and community leaders who have signed the "Say No To Drugs" Honor Roll.

After her talk, attendees came up to her describing how impressed they were with the community work being done by the Church of Scientology because the technology "is completely changing students' lives" and "saving people's souls."

"The widespread expansion of the Church of Scientology's community service and outreach programs has developed into an international campaign...."

Celebrities Promote Scientology And Dianetics in Australia

Public Relations Officers in Australia have been conducting celebrity tours, in which well-known Scientology celebrities, such as Kate Ceberano, Maxine Nightingale and Charles Lakes, travel around the country giving Dianetics lectures and doing interviews with the media.

Celebrities have appeared on major radio and TV talk shows and articles have run in the press promoting the workability of Dianetics. The popularity of LRH technology has grown to the point that radio show talk hosts are originating that they have read Dianetics and are urging their listeners to attend Dianetics seminars being held at the Church.

Germany Events Promote Scientology Expansion

All around Germany, the Public Relations Officers have been contributing to Scientology expansion by holding large events, each with a different theme, featuring Scientology celebrities. These events have attracted hundreds of attendees, many of whom have now been introduced to Scientology for their first time.

Some events have been art exhibits, featuring world-famous Scientology artist Gottfried Helnwein, during which he has publicly credited Scientology technology for the success of his career.

Another event was a benefit concert featuring internationally famed opera star Julia Migenes who sang for children who have been damaged by the psychiatric drug Ritalin. This concert launched Germany's anti-child-drugging campaign which has now been extensively covered in popular magazines and national newspapers in Germany.

Other events have been held with world-renowned pianist Cyprien Katsaris who performed concerts for the churches around the country, validating Scientology technology for making him successful in his work.

Radio Freedom Broadcasting in Denmark

The staff of the Department of Special Affairs in Copenhagen, Denmark, established and are now operating their own radio station.

Called Radio Freedom, the station provides the people of Copenhagen with solutions to life's problems, covering such topics as health, education, art, business management, anti-drug information, psychiatric crimes, as well as local good news.

On Sunday mornings, live programs feature spokesmen from other religions and various groups participating in debates on how to improve the environment. These often include call-in segments designed to promote two-way communication with the public.

Many of the shows focus on the results of the application of Scientology and Dianetics technologies, and show how these can be used to improve the quality of life.

Expansion Into The 1990s

The widespread expansion of the Church of Scientology's community service and outreach programs has developed into an international campaign, generating tremendous goodwill and overwhelming popularity for the Church of Scientology around the world.

Sweeping Scientology Victories in

No other period in the history of the Scientology religion has demonstrated the importance of the role of the Office of Special Affairs and the effectiveness of its Legal Bureau as much as the last decade.

Confronting what at first seemed insurmountable odds, the Church's legal staff became "one of the most fearsome and effective legal machines known to earth," in the words of Heber Jentzsch, president of the Church of Scientology International, a team "which has produced numerous major victories for the Church."

That reputation was earned by means of such hard-fought and stellar victories as the one that occurred in July 1985, when Judge Donald Londer threw out a $39-million verdict in the Christofferson case in Portland, Oregon. Judge Londer recognized that the jury had been poisoned by the false and inflammatory arguments of Christofferson's attorneys.

The Portland win echoed around the planet after thousands of Scientologists traveled to Portland for the first Religious Freedom Crusade and stood, shoulder to shoulder, until final victory was achieved.

News of the triumph spread like wildfire, with newspapers such as the Los Angeles Times heralding, "Judge Upsets $39-Million Award Against Scientology!"

In LRH ED 354 Int, "Winning," LRH succinctly described what has come to be known as the spirit of Portland: "For you there was never a thought of not succeeding. . . . For you there was only the thought of winning."

Major Defeat

To Psychiatrists

Although the Christofferson victory is one of the most well remembered, it was not the first triumph in the decade. In July 1980, after a 12-year battle, a major defeat was handed to psychiatrists and criminal politicians in the United Kingdom.

The ban prohibiting foreign Scientologists from entering England, forced into existence by these elements, was revoked by the British Home Secretary. English news media came out in favor of the decision, holding that "the government has put into practice its policy of equal treatment for every individual."

"Momentous Decision" in Australia

In October 1983, there was what LRH called a "momentous decision" when the High Court of Australia granted full religious recognition and tax exemption to Scientology.

After being presented with detailed legal briefs covering all relevant facts about the Scientology religion, the court proclaimed that "Scientology is a religion. . . . The conclusion that it is a religious institution is irresistible."

Legal Wins In Germany

In January 1985, the Church was triumphant again when an order from a Stuttgart court blocked the city's attempts to prohibit Scientology staff from approaching and talking to public on the streets around the Church. The court found that the "Church is a salvation religion which deals with the human soul and the riddles of life and which sees its roots and historical tradition in Buddhism, Hinduism and other religions."

A landmark constitutional decision affecting all Churches of Scientology throughout Germany was issued in late Heber Jentzsch posts the Declaration of Religious Freedom on the wall of the Multnomah County Court House, Portland, Oregon, where a $39-million case was thrown out of court.

1988, granting approval to the Church's Celebrity Centre to be registered by the government as a religious organization.

On the heels of this monumental win in Hamburg, the Frankfurt Mission was also allowed to register as a religious organization, ending a four-year legal battle in that city.

The Church scored yet another sweeping victory in Munich in July 1989. City officials had been attempting to deregister the Church as an idealistic association. The case was heard, the Court strongly urged the city to drop its case, and the Munich representative agreed — had he not, the Court was ready to issue a full judgment in favor of the Church.

Victories In Italy

In March 1988, the Italian Supreme Court dismissed a complaint filed against the Church of Scientology of Novara, stating that the case concerned "a matter of voluntary work for religious aims and community aims." This case concerned a complaint by a disaffected former staff member that he had been denied workers' rights and that the Church had thus violated labor laws. In an excellent recognition of the Church's religious status in Italy, the Supreme Court dismissed the case on the basis that the Novara Church is a religious organization, and therefore the former staff member's complaint was based on false premises.

A major legal victory occurred on January 23, 1989, in Bolzano, Italy, when a judge threw out charges against 11 Scientologists, labeling the accusations against them "completely unfounded." The prosecution, acting on false information supplied to the court by a psychiatrist, had made wildly inflammatory accusations against the Scientologists concerning the Church's delivery of the Purification Rundown.

The Scientologists' counsel quickly made it clear that the Purification Rundown, as delivered by the Church of Scientology, is a practice that correctly belongs to the field of spiritual and religious healing, not in the field of medicine, as the prosecution had tried to convince the court.

The court clearly agreed with the Scientologists' attorney, and at the end of the proceedings, charges were dismissed against all of the Scientologists.

Holland Church Wins Tax Exemptions

In 1988, tax officials in Amsterdam, Holland, granted the Church of Scientology exemption from paying value-added tax (VAT, a form of sales tax) on all major auditing services and technical training courses. This exemption was made valid for all future years and for the prior seven years as well. On the heels of this win, the Corporate Tax Department in Holland granted the Church exemption from paying corporate tax, after receiving a copy of the VAT exemption that made it clear that

Psychiatry Is on Its Way Out in Australia

continued from page 4

and from community leaders commanding us for our persistence in demanding that justice be done. Complete strangers have walked into CCHR to give donations or to offer thanks and help.

"Since 1985, more than 1,000 articles have been written on Chelmsford," she added. "The Church and CCHR have repeatedly been publicly acknowledged for their support of the Chelmsford victims and for their persistence in cleaning up the field of mental healing."

Psychiatric Crimes Throughout Australia

A year before the long-awaited establishment of the Royal Commission into Chelmsford, CCHR obtained reports of overdrugging and abuse of patients at another psychiatric hellhole — "Ward 10B" of Townsville Hospital in Queensland. The evidence was frighteningly similar to that already uncovered at Chelmsford.

By the end of 1988, irrefutable documentation of mistreatment in this ward had been obtained. In March 1989, medical records were leaked to the media showing that patients were being given more than double the known lethal doses of psychiatric barbiturates, in some cases up to 30 times the recommended dosage.

CCHR and other concerned individuals demanded justice in Queensland, asking for a Royal Commission styled after the inquiry in New South Wales. The Queensland Health Department Complaints Unit was ordered to investigate the situation, and in November 1989 published its report stating that methods in use were "degrading of both patient and relatives . . . and presented more than an element of danger."

Complaints have also been filed by CCHR on cases of overdrugging and deep sleep therapy at Glenside Hospital in Adelaide, South Australia. CCHR has established that at least one death has occurred because of this bizarre "treatment" at Glenside, and that other patients suffered cardiac arrests under the drugging. Health Department officials have publicly confirmed these facts.

In Victoria, the chairman of the Citizens Commission on Human Rights has asked for a Royal Commission into the LSD experiments which were carried out by psychiatrists in some of the state's hospitals in the 1950s and 1960s. An estimated 600 Australians are alleged to have been used in LSD experiments, according to one ex-patient of Victoria's New Haven private psychiatric institution.

The End of Psychiatry in Australia

"The recommendation that Chelmsford psychiatrists be prosecuted for their criminal actions is a milestone along the road towards completely eradicating psychiatry in Australia," said Jan.

"New South Wales is only the first of many states where we will bring about Royal Commissions to expose the rampant and barbaric psychiatric techniques in use today, and criminal prosecutions will follow."

"With the progress we have made so far, I have no doubt that by the turn of the century psychiatry will be completely outlawed in this country," she concluded.

the Legal Arena

the Church is a religious institution.

Squirrels Go Down in Defeat

U.S. courts took a firm stand against squirrels during the past decade and issued decisive rulings prohibiting them from infringing Scientology trademarks.

In 1983, the Federal District Court for the Southern District of California

ognitions of the religious nature of Scientology. Federal and state judges across the United States issued ruling after ruling, upholding Scientology's religiousness, with the result that U.S. courts now take for granted that Scientology is a religion. Even the IRS affirmed the religious nature of the Church when it stipulated in two separate tax cases, in 1980 and 1982, that Scientology is a religion.

In April 1988, a Los Angeles Superior Court judge upheld the Church of Scientology of California's right to contact former members directly in order to settle claimed upsets. This ruling arose in a case involving a Los Angeles attorney who, in 1985, thought he could make some fast money by soliciting former Church parishioners as clients. Church members contacted these former parishioners directly, and easily handled any upsets they had.

The judge quickly sent this attorney's frivolous suit down to defeat, stating, "It is a part of just about every . . . denomination to look with disfavor upon prosecution of suits against church members."

In June 1989, the IRS found itself on the receiving end of a devastating court decision in a case filed against it by the Church. The U.S. Supreme Court handed a major victory to the Church when it ruled that the IRS cannot distribute documents obtained through a summons to any other government agency without first obtaining court approval, and placed much-needed legal restraints on the tax agency when there is reason to suspect that it is likely to violate the law and abuse its powers. This precedent-setting decision is now being used by others in litigation with the IRS to protect themselves from the

"And you know conclusively that while the enemy goes down, whatever the bombast, Scientology is going UP."

— L. Ron Hubbard

disseminating or using any versions of upper level Scientology materials. In issuing her ruling, the judge specifically noted that she "did not find the testimony of [the squirrel] credible." Several months after the issuance of this injunction, the squirrel's group shut its doors for good.

In July 1988, Scientologists won another decisive victory over squirrels. In a ruling by a Los Angeles Superior Court judge, a frivolous $1 billion class action lawsuit filed against the Church was thrown out. The judge's resounding rejection of the suit marked the sixth and final time that suit had been tossed out, and he denounced the squirrels' case as being "devoid of facts" and "incomprehensible as pleaded."

In addition to this ultimate loss for the squirrels, and the more than $5,000 in fines they were ordered to pay while their suit was pending, the squirrels and their attorney also had to pay more than $15,000 in costs.

More Victories in The United States

The 1980s saw countless judicial rec-viduals, has caused a violent, hostile type of reaction."

This is a major breakthrough for CCHR and a major setback for the psychiatric industry.

Death Knell for Psychiatry

As CCHR continues its worldwide campaign, exposing psychiatric crimes and bringing the perpetrators to justice, recognition is growing that psychiatrists are no more than common criminals.

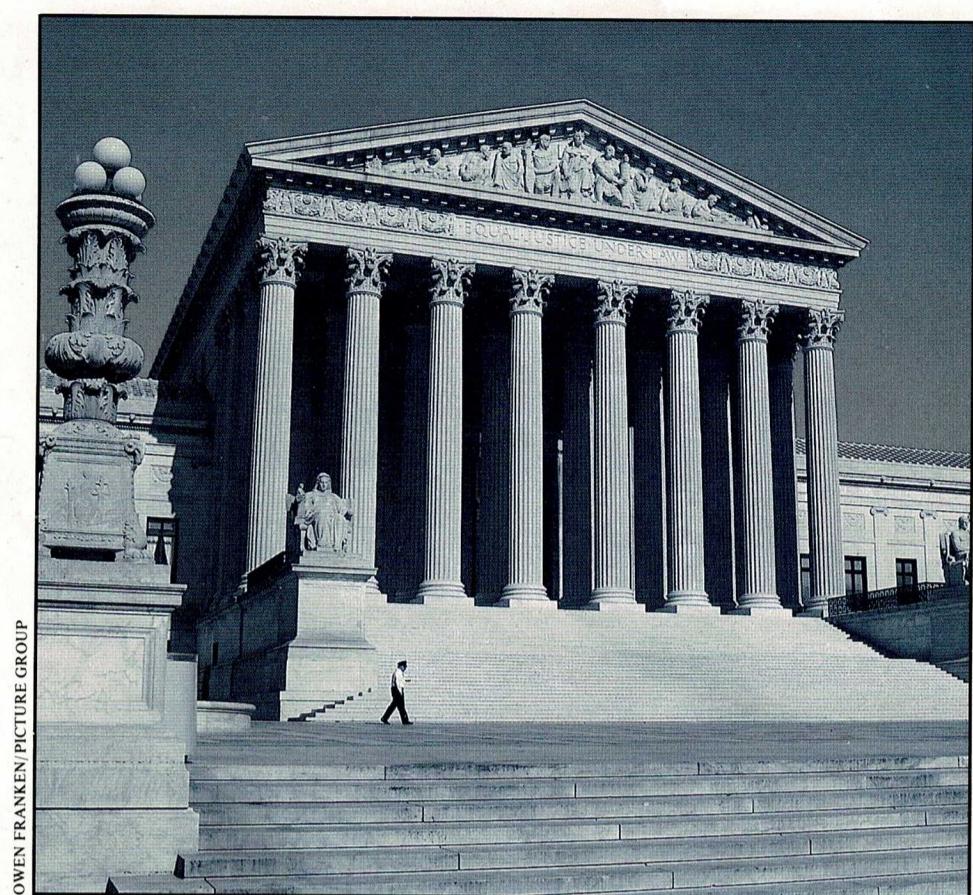

As LRH said in 1968, "It is time we began to label psychiatry for what it is, the greatest failure of the nineteenth century. . . . We are tracing social turmoil, unrest and widespread drug addiction to psychiatry. . . . We in Scientology stand ready to help anyone and help governments rid themselves of psychiatric crime."

continued from page 5

abused by psychiatrists. After emotional statements by each of these victims, the announcements urge the public to contact CCHR if they know of someone who has been harmed by psychiatry.

Public airings of these PSAs have raised public awareness to such an extent that a 1989 coroner's inquest in the state of Kentucky into a rampage by a psychiatric patient linked the rampage to the psychiatric drugs.

After killing eight people and wounding another 12, the killer, Joseph Westbecker, took his own life. Extensive education of the coroner by CCHR on the violent side effects of one of the drugs found in the assassin's body at the time of his death resulted in the coroner publicly stating that this drug "in some indi-

OWEN FRANKEN/PICTURE GROUP

IRS' violation of taxpayers' rights.

Scientology Wins All Legal Battles

By the time the 1980s drew to a close, it was clear to one and all that the Church is triumphant in all battles in which it engages.

As LRH said in 1982 in Ron's Journal 34, "All you have to do is look at where Scientology was in terms of numbers of orgs and missions even a few years back and where it is now to know.

Definitions:

AUDITING: processing, the application of Dianetics or Scientology processes and procedures to someone by a trained auditor. The exact definition of auditing is: the action of asking a preclear a question (which he can understand and answer), getting an answer to that question and acknowledging him for that answer.

AUDITOR: a person trained and qualified in applying Dianetics and/or Scientology processes and procedures to individuals for their betterment; called an auditor because auditor means "one who listens."

CELEBRITY CENTRE®: It is responsible for ensuring that celebrities expand into their area of power. This organization is also responsible for a celebrity's basic training in Scientology. Trademark.

CLEAR: an unaberrated person. He is rational in that he forms the best possible solutions he can on the data he has and from his viewpoint.

COMM LINES: [Communication lines.]

DIANETICS®: 1. man's most advanced school of the mind. Dianetics means "through the soul" (from the Greek, dia, through, and nous, soul). 2. WHAT THE SOUL IS DOING TO THE BODY. Trademark.

E-METER™: pastoral counselling device: Hubbard Electrometer. An electronic instrument for measuring mental state and change of state in individuals, as an aid to precision and speed in auditing. The E-Meter is not intended or effective for the diagnosis, treatment or prevention of any disease. Trademark.

FLAG® LAND BASE: Flag has established a new land base. It is called Flag Land Base, as it delivers services which formerly were only available on the Flagship of the Sea Organization. Trademark.

HCO™ (Hubbard Communications Office): HCO is basically a communications office. This means fast relay. Trademark.

HUBBARD®: L. Ron Hubbard (LRH, Ron): Founder and Source of Dianetics and Scientology religious philosophy and technology. Hubbard, L. Ron Hubbard and LRH are trademarks.

LRH™: [See def. of Hubbard.]

All you have to do is count the additional countries using it year by year. All you have to do is count the memberships of the Churches. And you know conclusively that while the enemy goes down, whatever the bombast, Scientology is going UP.

Eight years later, with hundreds more victories behind us, we have demonstrated conclusively that the enemy has gone down and Scientology has gone UP.

NARCONON®: (drugs — no!) Narconon is the only successful drug rehabilitation program on the planet. Trademark.

ORG: [Organization.]

OT®: 1. operating theta, highest state there is. 2. a being at cause over matter, energy, space, time, form and life. Trademark.

PRECLEAR (pc): from pre-Clear, a person not yet Clear; generally a person being audited, who is thus on the road to Clear; a person who, through Dianetics and Scientology processing, is finding out more about himself and life.

PROCESSING: [See def. of Auditing.]

PURIFICATION RUNDOWN®: [a drug rehabilitation program developed by L. Ron Hubbard, which frees people from the harmful mental and spiritual effects of drugs and other chemical substances.] Trademark.

SCIENTOLOGIST™: one who knows he has found the way to a better life through Scientology and who, through Scientology books, tapes, training and processing, is actively attaining it. Trademark.

SCIENTOLOGY®: 1. Scientology addresses the theta (the spirit). Scientology is used to increase spiritual freedom, intelligence, ability and produce immortality. 2. THE STUDY AND HANDLING OF THE SPIRIT IN RELATIONSHIP TO ITSELF, UNIVERSES AND OTHER LIFE. Trademark.

SQUIRRELS: Those who engage in actions altering Scientology, and offbeat practices.

Taken from the copyrighted works of L. Ron Hubbard except where enclosed in brackets [ ].

Important Note:

If the material in this newspaper becomes confusing or you can't seem to grasp it, there will be a word just earlier that you have not understood. Don't go any further, but go back to before you got into trouble, find the misunderstood word and get it defined.

For fuller definitions and for words not shown here, contact your local Church of Scientology.

Exposing Psychiatric Crimes

continued from page 5

abused by psychiatrists. After emotional statements by each of these victims, the announcements urge the public to contact CCHR if they know of someone who has been harmed by psychiatry.

Public airings of these PSAs have raised public awareness to such an extent that a 1989 coroner's inquest in the state of Kentucky into a rampage by a psychiatric patient linked the rampage to the psychiatric drugs.

After killing eight people and wounding another 12, the killer, Joseph Westbecker, took his own life. Extensive education of the coroner by CCHR on the violent side effects of one of the drugs found in the assassin's body at the time of his death resulted in the coroner publicly stating that this drug "in some indi-

In the United States Reforming the IRS

Many years ago, a United States senator described the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) as "a Gestapo preying upon defenseless citizens." In 1980, a U.S. congressman called it an agency "drunk with power, ruthlessly smashing dissent among its own personnel and brazenly roughing up taxpayers at will."

These statements could not be more accurate — and during the past decade, the Church of Scientology has documented the truth of these words for the American public.

The effectiveness of the Church's campaign to eradicate IRS abuses and misconduct and to bring the agency under control has been demonstrated by the following wins:

- In 1985, the staff of FREEDOM Magazine, in response to public demand, worked with current and former IRS employees and a U.S. congressman to form an organization called the National Coalition of IRS Whistleblowers.

This group instantly grabbed national headlines and became an awesome juggernaut for social reform, compiling a spectacular record of radio and television shows and newspaper coverage exposing IRS abuses, while spearheading effective nationwide efforts to bring about IRS reform.

- Also in 1985, FREEDOM and the coalition published a formal, 176-page report entitled, The Internal Revenue Service: An Agency Out of Control, containing detailed, documented accounts of IRS abuses. This was distributed to all members of Congress, as well as to major news media around the country, and created a firestorm of controversy concerning the tax agency, its crimes and abuses.

- In 1989, after several continuous years of public exposure of IRS wrongdoing, congressional hearings were held on IRS misconduct. Top executives of the tax agency were grilled by U.S. congressmen on their criminal activities, using information provided by FREEDOM Magazine and the National Coalition of IRS Whistleblowers. At the height of the hearings, a Church staff member made national television appearances with a congressman from the investigating committee.

- Thousands of copies of FREEDOM exposing IRS crimes were handed out to IRS employees as they came to work. Typical of the responses generated was that of one employee who said, "Thank you for helping us!"

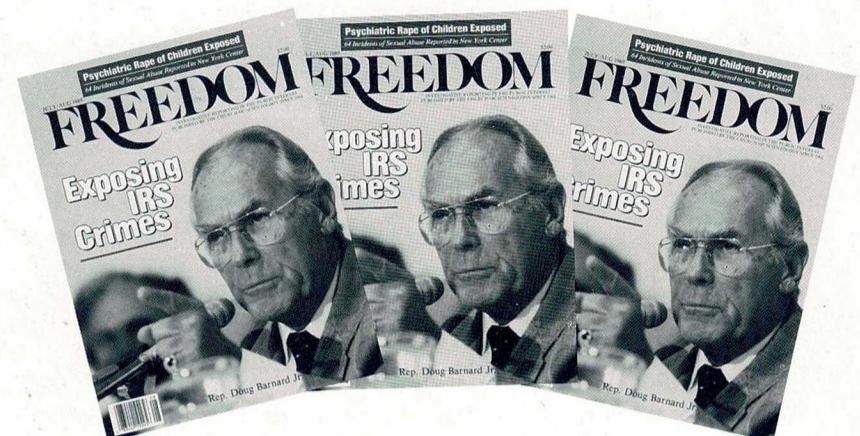

- After receiving a copy of FREEDOM, another employee sent the Church a secret IRS memorandum revealing an agency plan that would sabotage Congress' intent to root out and prevent corruption inside the IRS. On the top of the memo, the employee added his own personal note, saying, "Your July/August issue was much discussed at [IRS] national office."

- A member of a congressional committee who received a copy of the FREEDOM issue later phoned the Church asking for more copies to distribute to all members of the congressional committee.

- As part of the campaign to bring an end to IRS abuses and to protect the rights of honest taxpayers, Scientologists helped author provisions in the landmark Taxpayers' Bill of Rights, passed into law in 1988.

- The Church then published and distributed as a public service 50,000 copies of a booklet entitled, "How to Protect Your Rights As a Taxpayer," to inform citizens of their new rights under this law. Released just days before the deadline for filing tax returns in April 1989, the booklet was in instant demand. By the end of the year, scores of radio shows and newspaper articles about the booklet had run, followed by floods of letters and phone calls requesting copies.

FREEDOM's investigative reporting provided material used by U.S. congressional investigators in exposing IRS crimes.

- Government agencies and employees, such as the California Franchise Tax Board and a member of the Boston City Council, ordered copies, rather than using the publication issued by the IRS that is intended to brief citizens on their rights.

As we move into 1990, a new round of congressional hearings into IRS crimes and abuses is already scheduled, setting the stage for bringing the IRS fully under control and eradicating this threat to the rights of American citizens.

Exposing the Drug Traffickers Interpol Under Investigation

On March 13, 1982, in Ron's Journal 34, THE FUTURE OF SCIENTOLOGY, LRH described Interpol, the International Criminal Police Organization, as "a nest of war criminals hiding out from the law itself."

In the years that followed, investigations into this Nazi-infested police group revealed that its top officials are playing major roles in directing, protecting and benefiting from the international drug trade.

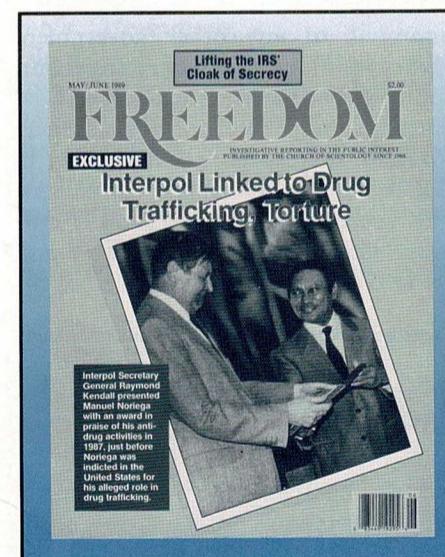

Intent upon getting to the bottom of and eradicating the world's drug problems, the Church of Scientology intensified its campaign to document and expose Interpol's illegal activities.

Church researchers have made major breakthroughs in discovering that:

- Four Interpol chiefs in Bolivia have been involved in drug trafficking or have been linked to drug traffickers;
- Notorious Nazi war criminal Klaus Barbie, while directing drug trafficking activities in Bolivia from the 1970s through 1983, was protected by Interpol;
- Panamanian Interpol chief Nivaldo Madrinan has been tied to the Medellin drug cartel and has been implicated in international drug trafficking himself on a massive scale;
- Two Mexican Interpol chiefs have been accused of running the huge drug trade in their country; and
- Although Interpol has claimed that its top priority is to put an end to international drug trafficking, its secretary general, Raymond Kendall, presented an award in 1987 to then Panamanian dictator Manuel Noriega, one of the most notorious international drug traffickers. FREEDOM Magazine obtained photographic documentation of this award, and the photograph and story of Interpol's hypocrisy were picked up and run in newspapers around the world.

Through the actions of members of the Church's Office of Special Affairs, government leaders and concerned citizens across the planet have become aware of the sordid, illegal activities of this private group. One after another, nations are withdrawing their confidence in and support of Interpol:

- A March 1989 article titled "Will Drug Lords Soon Paralyze Interpol?" printed in a West German publication, stated that American and German critics of Interpol called it a "big swamp of secret services, dictators, Mafia, banana republics and corruption."

- A December 1989 article in the London Daily Telegraph, reporting on a group that was to be formed by the European Economic Community (EEC) to fight drugs, stated that the new unit will be kept separate from Interpol. EEC governments know that the sensitive nature of drug intelligence requires security — something for which Interpol cannot be depended upon, now that its top officials are known to be major drug traffickers.

- A December 1989 Reuters news service story quoted a Belgian official as stating that his country would only sign a treaty regarding police cooperation with other countries if Interpol would not be the central watchdog.

- A member of parliament in Australia recently declared, "In general, the list of presidents and executive members of Interpol reads like a Nazi who's who during, as well as after, the war. But if you then place a Nazi in charge of a fascist organization like Interpol, the result of such a crossbreed is dreadful to contemplate."

Following the Church's lead, calls for investigations into Interpol are mounting around the world:

- A resolution in July 1989 from the Council of Europe, a 23-member body of European countries, called for one of the most extensive investigations of Interpol to date. The resolution highlighted the fact that "in recent years, Interpol officials have been reported as being involved in drug trafficking in several South American countries and possibly others."

The council also pointed out that Interpol has managed to place itself "above the laws of any land, not being legally accountable for its acts."

- Calls for investigations of Interpol or its top officials soon followed in Sweden, France, Australia, West Germany, Switzerland, Mexico, the Netherlands and the United States.

As we head into the 1990s, the Church's campaign is being intensified so that Interpol officials are brought to account for their actions and our civilization is saved from the ravage of drugs.

We Are The Free People

by L. Ron Hubbard

We are the Free People. We have grown up — grown up to Freedom, not senility.

We are the Free People. The Scientologist has left behind the claws and barriers of miscontrol.

We are the Free People. Grown from out the mud and jungle rot of fear, our unchained minds can reach afar and grasp the idea of ultimate Freedom.

We are the Free People in whom the whims of "I'm supposed to" have no rule, on whom the scientist can blunt his weighty arguments to prove we are not Free.

Be glad, they said before we came, that you are mad, insane, for there is genius, so they said. You cannot change. Our brand on you is fixed. Your brain is all you are and fixed like clockwork in a robot head. So think, they said, as we have said, to think, for thought is our own chain and your ideas nil.

Die, they said, and live no more and become dispossessed so we can own. Fall down, they said, and worship clay or maybe space, but of course wrath. And sing lugubrious songs to fear or maybe international cults that specialize in slaves.

Believe, they said, that Man is just a shiny thing well meant to die beneath the pounding of their bombs — the mightiest God they knew.

The flesh, they said, is All and you are but a decay of yourself.

And so they bariered All men.

The witch and the pot; the test tube and the scope; the cell and the club; the textbook and the lies — Control! Control them or we die! Beat them or they win! Starve them or we shrink. We are afraid, afraid, afraid! — they said in that old age we killed.

Freedom beck and we now laughing at their lies, went free.

Scientology — The Road Sign Out.

We are the Free People. We LIVE! We're Free!

L. Ron Hubbard
from Ability, Issue 58, November 1957.

Help Create a Safe Space in Which Scientology Can Expand

Join the Office of Special Affairs Network

"It could be that the fate of nations hangs on the actions, brilliance and skill of the Director of Official Affairs in handling individuals to gain help for Scientology."

L. Ron Hubbard

(HCO PL 13 MARCH 1961
"DEPARTMENT OF OFFICIAL AFFAIRS")

The Office of Special Affairs (OSA), and the Department of Special Affairs (DSA) in Class IV orgs, are staffed by professional staff members who ensure the unhampered expansion of Scientology through the bettering of the public representation, legal position and government acceptance of Scientology internationally.

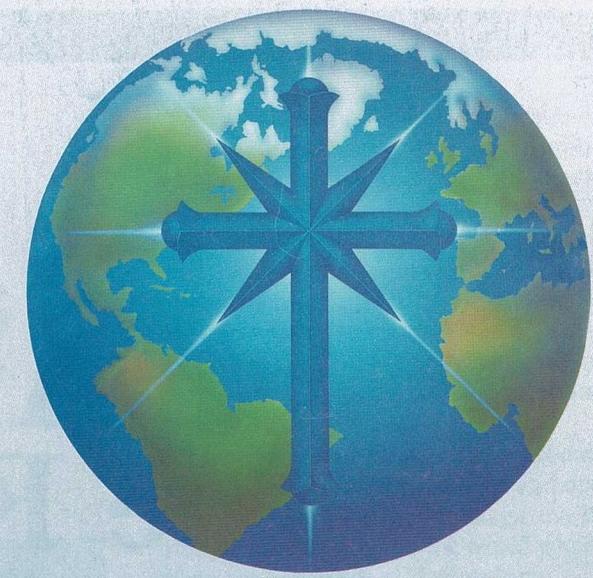

Join the group that is creating major inroads into society with hundreds of major wins such as these:

- Due to CCHR's tireless crusade to get in ethics in the field of mental healing, psychiatrists have had criminal complaints filed against them in the United States, Canada, Italy, France, Holland and Australia, and they are being investigated by law enforcement authorities for criminal acts in the United States and Australia.
- In California, a major state-funded psychiatric institution is under threat of being closed down in the face of six different investigations, prompted by CCHR, into atrocities found behind its walls.
- OSA has documented and exposed the drug-trafficking crimes of Interpol, the private, Nazi-founded, police group. An international campaign exposing Interpol's crimes has resulted in press in North and South America, Europe, Australia, and Africa. As a result, probes into Interpol or its top officials have been called for by the Council of Europe, as well as by numerous countries around the world.
- A monumental legal victory has been achieved in Italy, where the Italian Supreme Court ordered that a Milan judge be taken off the Scientology case because of prejudice.

Positions are being made available within the OSA network for dedicated and professional Scientologists who want to work with us to achieve many more wins in the coming years.

Find out now if you qualify.

Join the Office of Special Affairs
TODAY!

CONTACT: The Recruiter at the Office of Special Affairs International, 6331 Hollywood Blvd., Suite 1200, Los Angeles, California 90028-6329, (213) 960-3500, or the Director of Special Affairs at your local organization.